

CLOSE OF THE FAIR.

A GOOD CROWD OUT TO SEE THE BIG TROT TO-DAY.

The approximate average attendance for the seven days 57,000—Awards in the Arena—Yesterday's Races and To-day's Trotting Events—Well satisfied exhibitors.

The Fair is over. No one had to complain this morning of lack of accommodations in the street cars running to the grounds. There were seats and plenty of seats to be had at any time. The street car companies, to their credit be it said, continued to run a full line of cars, so that there was little waiting at the crossings, and riding accommodations for the day were not a problem. The wagon-yard was just about retired from trade this morning. On Thursday every vacant space within three blocks of the Fair Grounds gate was enclosed and every enclosure was filled with vehicles whose owners preferred paying for the cars outside to paying for their admittance and feeling the attendant within. But the wagon-yard was short of occupation this morning. The good yellow coach with twenty-four seats was being driven by a party of visitors and there is no danger that any of those who patronized it will have to walk home this evening.

THE ATTENDANCE.—The attendance to-day is slightly below yesterday's, but the feature of the day is the big trot, and the attendance for that event is made up yet. The attendance for each day can only be approximated as yet, for the tickets have not been counted up. The attendance for the day is estimated at 50,000. The attendance for the day is estimated at 50,000. The attendance for the day is estimated at 50,000.

THE RACES.—The races were well attended yesterday and the sport was good. The first race, 2:20 class, purse $1,000, was won by Palo Alto.

THE PACKERS' STRIKE.

FINKERTON MEN GUARDING THE CHICAGO STOCK-YARDS.

Thousands of strikers on the scene, but no violence—Mr. Armour's statement of the situation—Rumors of a compromise—Mr. Powderly takes a hand in the trouble—The Knights of Labor continue to get down to business—Labor news.

Chicago, October 9.—In an interview on the subject of the strike, published this morning, Mr. P. M. Armour said: "The matter of returning to the ten hour day system rests entirely on the question of self-protection. Chicago packers are unable to compete with the Kansas City people on a basis of eight hours, chiefly on account of the lessened cost of operating at those points. The corn belt has moved pretty much westward, and hogs are cheaper out there. Chicago packing-house property has greatly depreciated in value of late years. I have expended $300,000 on my Kansas City packing-houses this season. I would gladly have my men work eight hours if I could do so in justice to myself and the men. The strike is a self-protection, and self-protection, of course, must be maintained. I have fourteen hours myself every day and ten hours daily for my employees. I do not anticipate closing down entirely, although for a few days. There are plenty of men who are willing to work ten hours every day and take the place of the strikers. I am assured of protection, and this will positively be offered them to the fullest extent. I will take a proper view of the situation, and reconsider their action, which is certainly ill-advised."

Advices from the stock yards report the situation unchanged there this morning, and no disturbance of any kind has occurred. Armour & Co. say that the report that their men will be killed is a mistake, and that that part of their establishment, as well as those of the other packers, is running as usual, the strike being confined to the hog-kilns. About two thousand head of cattle and 9,000 hogs were received at the yards yesterday.

FINKERTON MEN GUARD.—The men who were lodged and breakfasted at the Transit House last night, and at 7 o'clock this morning emerged from the dining room and shouldered their rifles. The matter of indorsement of the strike was discussed, and the men were told to be on guard. The men were told to be on guard. The men were told to be on guard.

THE NEW YORK MATRIMONY.—The Democratic National Still Daily Spill New York, October 9.—The World this morning says: "The local political situation remains unchanged. Everything appears to be mixed up. The Democratic factions seem to have no nearer settling the union question than they were a week ago. The Republicans are watching the Democrats while the following of Henry George are zealously organizing their forces. Irving Hall has appointed a conference committee to talk peace and harmony. The conference will meet on Friday evening. The Tammany Hall leaders are enthusiastic. The Tammany Hall leaders are enthusiastic. The Tammany Hall leaders are enthusiastic."

THE KNIGHTS OF LABOR.—The Convention Settles Down to Business—Reports of Committees.—Richmond, Va., October 9.—This is the sixth day that the general assembly of the Knights of Labor have been in session here, and the business of the convention can at once be taken up and carried through. Each delegate has a bundle of printed pamphlets and circulars. One of these was the supplementary report written by Ralph H. Miller, secretary of the order, and another was a proposition of A. M. Dewey of Detroit, Mich., to establish a weekly journal for the order. The purpose of this was that each member should be fully acquainted with the several subjects brought up for discussion. The committee on Distribution set to work even before the convention met, and the committee on the subject of the order was charged with the duty of considering the subject of the order. THE Henry George movement in New York will undoubtedly strengthen the labor movement in St. Louis.

THE POST-DISPATCH points with pride to its Big Four—HOBBS, THOMAS, MARNEZ, and COUGHLIN. It views without alarm all the opposition that will vainly be brought to bear against them.

THE WORKMEN who were represented in the recent labor convention have already been taunted with the sneer that the only result of their effort was to give them a chance to "stand up and be counted." This is an insinuation that the count will show a very small following for the ticket. It depends on the workmen themselves to show whether the sneer was justifiable. We do not think it was.

PERHAPS the State law of Illinois anti-discrimination has something to do with the Chicago & Alton's charging twice as much per mile for excursion rates from Springfield to St. Louis as from Springfield to Chicago. The two latter are in the same State, while transportation from Springfield, Ill., to St. Louis, Mo., can be regular by Congress alone, and Congress has failed to take any action thereto.

THE POST-DISPATCH does not seek office, but when the different political parties confer unsolicited nominations on worthy representatives of our various departments, we propose to pull them through. The quadrilateral of talent selected from the POST-DISPATCH, which may properly be called a Big Four, consists of gentlemen of such eminent fitness and worth that we do not hesitate to predict that the People's Paper will soon be represented in the State Senate and in the House, in the Recorder's office and in the list of Justices of the Peace.

COL. D. P. DYER announces that he will accept the Republican nomination for Congress in the Ninth District, and there is no reason why he should not make a strong party candidate. He is personally popular, has had an extensive and creditable experience in public life, and as his firm has for several years past managed all the legal business of the POST-DISPATCH to our satisfaction, we are compelled to admit that he is a good lawyer. But Congress is the last place where personal popularity or any similar considerations should be allowed control. Mr. DYER would on all occasions be found voting with the party which has maintained war taxes, piled up the needless surplus, created the great monopolies and otherwise injured the prosperity of the country, and the general interest demands that Democratic Congresses shall be given a fair chance to overthrow this traditional Republican policy.

FAIR week closes, as it began and has continued, with cloudless skies and that delicious October weather which is surpassed in no other climate or region. To say that the exhibit and the attendance at the Fair have both "broken the record" of past years, is to say what has been so often said before that some people may be inclined to regard it as merely a parrot-like iteration. Indeed, many were prepared to expect a falling off, because it was supposed that the immense attendance during the preceding Exposition weeks had about satisfied or exhausted the taste for sight-seeing and made the whole West weary of crowds. But actual observation has overturned this theory, and the city, the Fair Ground and the Exposition are still only a little less crowded, with no sign of any abatement of the interest which promises to keep the halls of the Exposition thronged to the end.

CALLED BACK.
The Republican City Convention has been summoned from the shades of the underworld and has been ordered to materialize in a session on Monday morning. Whether the second convention will be a real body or only a ghost is a question concerning which there is a difference of opinion in the convention, but whether it is a solid body or only a gaseous exhalation, its resurrection is certainly an interesting novelty among political ghost-stories. When it revisits the glimmer of the daylight it will have some natural difficulty in accounting for its appearance and explaining what the speculative philosophers would call the whyness of the thus. If last week's convention was non compos no commission de lunatico inquirendo has declared that it has been cured, and if it was a sane body, next week's convention must be adjudged mildly lunatic at the least.

Inasmuch as the principal piece of political patchwork which the convention wanted to insert in its tattered ticket is altogether impracticable, the reason for which the convention will meet will not be the reason which led to its recalling. The delegates know that, and they know that the public knows it. A convention under such circumstances will be, indeed, a unique and picturesque novelty, and we do not envy its members the attitude in which they pose as they solemnly stultify themselves.

GOV. PATTISON'S FIGHT.
The coal pool operators in Wall street sneer at Gov. PATTISON's letter in regard to their conspiracy, and ask, a la TWEED, "What is he going to do about it?" If they will read the definition of a criminal conspiracy laid down in a Pennsylvania Supreme Court decision by Chief Justice AGNEW, they may guess at one thing that can be done about it, and which would be done if they were an association of ordinary laborers.

They can also find in a recently written opinion of the same Judge AGNEW, if not among the decisions of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, the proposition that the Constitution of that State is a controlling part of the charter of every corporation in the State, and that the courts can enforce it by injunctions and by the very severe penalties for contempt which are within the discretion of the courts.

There may be no statute making the officers of a railroad corporation criminally responsible, as they should be, for operating it in deliberate violation of law; there may be no statute providing for the disfranchisement of a railroad corporation and the winding up of its affairs for violating its charter obligations, as is done in the case of a bank which commits an act of bankruptcy, but the courts are nevertheless bound to enforce the Constitution with all the means at their command, and their means of doing so, even in the absence of enforcing statutes, are certainly formidable when the court is willing to use them effectively.

But it is about time for corporations to begin making some show of voluntary obedience to law. A self-governing population will not much longer endure the spectacle of State Constitutions trampled under the feet of corporations and "moneycrats," while all the powers of the Legislature, the Executive and the Judiciary are exerted to hold the discontented employees in peaceful subjection to law.

SPEAK OUT.
Was the railroad plank of the Missouri Democratic platform adopted only to throw the people off their guard, as a "charm that lulls to sleep"? Why else is there such silence on the subject in the Democratic conventions that are nominating men to represent St. Louis in the next Legislature? Are they nominating men to represent the people and the business interests of the city, or to be voted, as heretofore, by Col. JOHN O'DAY, and there is no reason why he should not make a strong party candidate. He is personally popular, has had an extensive and creditable experience in public life, and as his firm has for several years past managed all the legal business of the POST-DISPATCH to our satisfaction, we are compelled to admit that he is a good lawyer. But Congress is the last place where personal popularity or any similar considerations should be allowed control. Mr. DYER would on all occasions be found voting with the party which has maintained war taxes, piled up the needless surplus, created the great monopolies and otherwise injured the prosperity of the country, and the general interest demands that Democratic Congresses shall be given a fair chance to overthrow this traditional Republican policy.

FAIR week closes, as it began and has continued, with cloudless skies and that delicious October weather which is surpassed in no other climate or region. To say that the exhibit and the attendance at the Fair have both "broken the record" of past years, is to say what has been so often said before that some people may be inclined to regard it as merely a parrot-like iteration. Indeed, many were prepared to expect a falling off, because it was supposed that the immense attendance during the preceding Exposition weeks had about satisfied or and pledge himself fully and explicitly to support, vigorously and in good faith, the railroad legislation promised in the Democratic platform.

It appears that the Pennsylvania Supreme Court decision in regard to the store-orders law was not so outrageous as a good many newspapers inferred from the telegraphic report of it. The only provision which is held unconstitutional by the court is that which provides that store orders accepted by laborers shall not be a valid offset against an action for the recovery of wages. The decision is that the statute is in conflict with the State Constitution, so far as the former deprives the employer and employee of the right to make a voluntary contract, and so far as it repudiates a payment voluntarily accepted and used by the laborer in accordance with such contract. But the decision leaves in full force those provisions of the law forbidding the issue of store orders in payment of wages, and the penalty for violating these provisions remains unimpaired. But it is manifest that employers can easily evade the law in its present crippled condition so long as necessity compels the laborer to "voluntarily" accept the store-order system of doing business. So the decision will probably hasten the enactment of such penalties as will abolish that rascally and extortionate method of oppressing the poor.

MR. HEWITT is right in declaring that our present tariff is oppressive and paralyzing many of the home manufacturers, which its upholders pretend that it favors and protects. He is right also in declaring that factiousness in the Democratic ranks is largely to blame for the failure to inaugurate a fair revision of the tariff schedules. The Democratic party cannot evade its share of the responsibility for this failure, and this responsibility is becoming more serious every day. The last report of the Bureau of Statistics, reckoning our population at 58,420,000, shows that our Government collected last year a net revenue of $336,438,727, which is $5.75 for every man, woman and child, besides the expense of collecting the same. This takes $16 a year out of the earnings of every workman with a family of eight persons to support. But besides what is thus transferred from his pockets to the Treasury, the present tariff forces him to pay an indirect and invisible but larger tax to protected monopolists on what his family consumes. To make the matter worse, the Government is collecting $94,000,000 a year more than it expends, and this is lying idle in the Treasury while we are paying $2,820,000 a year of interest on that amount of redeemable bonds.

The people will not patiently brook any further trifling with such a situation by either party.

It needs no prolix array of figures to tell the people of this country that the tide has turned and that business is reviving in all the walks of trade and industry. They see it in busier marts, in more heavily loaded trains, in the opening of mills and factories that were closed, in hundreds of forms of activity whose energies but lately drooped or were stagnant. The idea that this changed appearance of things represents a real change has for some time past been confirmed by increased bank clearances and by statistics showing increased trade and largely increased production of manufacturing establishments. That this change has been brought about by no foreign war, no accidental forces, no tinkering of tariff or currency is also a well known fact, and one which assures us that the improvement will continue as the necessary result of a healthy and natural reaction from an extreme depression, the causes of which have exhausted themselves.

MEN OF MARK.
EDWIN ARNOLD, of "Light of Asia" fame, is seriously ill in London.
GEN. ALEX. APPENDIX, of the Administration as well as the murderous Apaches.
CAPT. HENRY, the English yachtsman, is out of pocket about $10,000 on the recent cup races.
DENIS KEARNEY has appeared upon the political stage in San Francisco again. He wants to be a sheriff.

ROBERT FALB, an European prophet, is trying to out-Wiggins Wiggins by predicting a monster drought in the West.
MR. BROWNE is having a great deal of litigation over his lately purchased but not yet possessed palace in Venice.
EXPLORER STANLEY is to lecture in Massachusetts in December on what he saw while going across the Dark Continent.
BARRING HENRY Irving, who perhaps has enough about all the actors on the other side seem madly in love with the American eagle.

DR. GATLING, the inventor of the Gatling gun, lives in an unpretentious but comfortable house near Hartford, and goes but little into society.
SECRETARY LAMAR has rented a large and handsome residence in Washington, but he keeps on protesting that he is not going to be married.
LORD RANDOLPH CHURCHILL has little left on the top of his head, and much on his upper lip. His hands are not at all up to the alleged aristocratic standard, being as large as any ploughman's.

DEBENS says he will bring a suit for $100,000 against Lord Londale for alienating his wife's affection. Debens is small, but he seems large enough to inspire a very valuable amount of affection in his own estimation.
It is just possible that Bonanza Mackay may yet be chosen Prince of Bulgaria. He is one of the heaviest creditors of the country, and if he should concede that his interests demanded the appointment of a receiver, he might get the place.

ROBERT SMALLS, the negro statesman, has been elected to Congress five times. He will no doubt secure his sixth election in November.

ber, as he has been re-nominated in the Seventh District of South Carolina, where there is a dense colored population.

WOMEN OF THE WORLD.
MRS. CLARA POLTZ, the lady lawyer of San Francisco, will stump her State for the Democratic ticket.

PAULINE NELSON, a German servant girl in Indianapolis, has been left $250,000 by her uncle in the Fatherland.

MISS HENRIETTA H. STANWOOD of Portland, Me., has become a member of the editorial staff of the Congressionalist.

The widow of Dr. Octave Favry, who perished in the Greely expedition, is to have a pension of $17 a month from the Government.

The Queen's Hohenlohe villa at Baden-Baden has long been standing empty for want of a tenant willing to pay the big rental asked.

A FRENCH authority says that the female headgear for the coming season is to be laden with feathers. The ornithological war will still go on.

There are numerous Masonic lodges in France, it is said, composed exclusively of women. They have all the fancy features and ceremonies.

Mrs. DELVA A. LOCKWOOD is already named for the Presidential race in 1888. This is a better advertisement for her law business than a double-column display in a newspaper.

It is said that Mrs. Langtry has an amazing command of preparation in her pale pink silk, with blue and white, and a blue sash, and it is to be worn with a hellebore mantle embroidered in gold.

Mrs. HARRIET BRECHER STOWE is now in her 75th year, and since the death of her husband has failed rapidly. Although not entirely confined to the house she goes out doors but little and then only by the assistance of others.

Mrs. OLIVE CLEVELAND CLARK of Springfield, Mass., is considered an unusual woman for two reasons. The first is that she has lived to the age of 102; the second, that she makes no attempt to prove a relationship with the President.

Mrs. F. S. FORTUNE, the English actress who figured as plaintiff in the breach of promise suit against Lord Garmoyne, has reached New York and will begin her season at the Lyceum Theatre in that city on the 18th. "I haven't brought even a pug dog to be talked about," she said smilingly; "my art must speak for me alone."

A KENTUCKY planter was so pleased with the acting of a little girl in a play at Louisville that the next day he sent her a fine large doll to "amuse her when not at the theater."

This is the reply he received: "Kind friend—Have just received your note and package containing the doll. I am sure it is a very handsome one. I showed it to my husband, and we think it will be great amusement for me."

On her way from the Yellowstone to Oregon, Miss Minnie Hauk stopped at Roseman and gave a concert. The audience were greatly pleased with her singing, and she was presented to her—with many other things—two gold nuggets from a neighboring mine, a pair of fine eagle-claws and a genuine Indian scalp, taken at the famous Custer battlefield.

"Pinned to the scalp was a card saying: 'In token of the affection of the Indian people, presented to Miss Hauk by P. Mounie.'"

THE METROPOLITAN PRESS.

What the Editors of the New York Journals are saying this morning.
By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, October 9.—THE WORLD says: "The seeking of a promotion from a municipal or State office to a higher federal office is a matter of course, and it is not to be wondered at that the individual, and by the by, the sentiment to which he is accountable. An ideal reformer would, no doubt, prefer the office seeker the man, and not go in person to the delegates whose nomination he seeks."

But before another day it comes our turn. The Democrats in Federal office should not copy the example of the Secretary of the Interior, who has been so long in office that he has become a part of the Government.

A higher standard of public action is expected of the victors, and they have won out of the struggle with a new vigor, and with a new determination to do their duty.

THE SUN says: "The Democratic campaign in Massachusetts is in the Mug-hug hands; they have put a padlock upon the pockets of their candidates, and upon the Democratic party they have put a mugwump."

THE TIMES says: "The very service at Indianapolis is a very service at Indianapolis. After a careful examination of Mr. Tilden's report, and with our knowledge of the facts, we are compelled to believe that they are true. We would not, however, point out the duty of Mr. Cleveland in the premises, it is plainly indicated by the facts of the case."

The business of the State is being conducted in a manner which is both honest and just. The State is being conducted in a manner which is both honest and just.

THE TRIBUNE says: "The week and lowly content of some minor Federal office cannot be filled by the class of visitors to the city. The class of visitors to the city is not the class of visitors to the city."

D. F.—As a general rule the minimum of disapproval is the best. The minimum of disapproval is the best. The minimum of disapproval is the best.

F. F.—All the costumed persons who took part in the Veiled Prophet's parade entered the city in a very different manner from the usual manner of the city.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT THE BIG WEEK OF THE CARNIVAL.

The Railroad Record of Visitors—Chas. Withers, publisher of the Railroad Record, has just issued a book, "The Big Week of the Carnival," which gives a full and complete account of the carnival.

What the week has been no one need tell St. Louisans. Its hurly-burly, its brilliancy, dash and glory have been sufficiently heard, seen and written. But the profit of all this, the return in dollars and cents for the expense of the carnival, the people would possibly like to have some estimate of.

La Comte de Foresta, who represents the Italian people in this country as Secretary of Legation, said mournfully of the Italian carnivals in an interview: "They are now simply business speculations, and the carnival is a business speculation, is it not?"

It is, certainly, and if it did not pay, there would be no carnival. To one who reads "Corinne" or the "Count of Monte Cristo," an Italian carnival conducted as a business speculation, but business is what people came to the West for, and the longest pole knocks the persternum. That festivities such as have just terminated pay is proven by their annual repetition and increased magnificence. "Has the Carnival paid?" echoed.

JOSEPH SPECIT of the "Famous," "Well, you can say for me that we are ready to sign a contract for ten years of this business. We are ready to pledge ourselves to do a proper share for ten years."

Mr. G. W. Griffin, brother of Dr. Hamilton Griffin, and for the last two years United States Consul at Sydney, New South Wales, is in the city on his way to visit his daughter at Vineland, Mo. He is on a leave of absence of several months, and the object of his visit to America at this time is to direct the attention of the United States Government to the consular facilities at Sydney. The occasion of Mr. Griffin's departure was taken advantage of by the managers of the carnival to give him a complimentary banquet, at which the guests were very numerous.

HIS FRIENDS WORRIED.

The Sudden and Mysterious Disappearance of James H. Blauvelt.

By Telegram to the POST-DISPATCH.
New York, Oct. 8.—New York business men opened their eyes this morning when they learned that James H. Blauvelt, who had disappeared, if the Trinity Church had not itself from its foundation and buried itself in ruins on the moldy tombstones in the old cemetery, Mr. Blauvelt had been a familiar figure in the financial world for twenty years or more. The son of an old and wealthy family and the owner by descent of the Broadway building, Mr. Blauvelt had made a business world as the agent for the United States Insurance Company of Portland, Me. He prospered, and now his wealth is estimated at between $500,000 and $600,000. He is a member of the Produce Exchange, General Manager of the Halle Gold Mining Company, and Director of the National National Bank. The first intimation that Blauvelt was missing was the granting yesterday by Judge Donohue of an order for the arrest of Blauvelt, and the arrest of Blauvelt was made at the instance of the Produce Exchange, and the arrest of Blauvelt was made at the instance of the Produce Exchange, and the arrest of Blauvelt was made at the instance of the Produce Exchange.

HAINES' GOLDEN SPECIFIC.

It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea without the knowledge of the person taking it; it is absolutely harmless, and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate or a drunker on a alcoholic wreck. It has been given in thousands of cases, and in every instance a perfect cure has followed. For a further de-
